Cine para los niños

Con muchísima frecuencia oímos los comentarios de inconformidad con respecto a la clase de películas que se exhiben en nuestros teatros para los niños.

Se critica la moralidad de esas películas. La ausencia de teatro infantil y otras diversiones propias para niños agrava la pobreza del medio en que se desarrolla nuestra población infantil. Ni siquiera contamos con un parque cuyo servicio sea sólo para ellos, una plaza o un campo de juegos. Ante una realidad tan triste no queda otra cosa que el cine sea de cualquier factura y el sacrificio es el niño. En una época en que cada uno mira sólo sus intereses; de tanto materialismo y despreocupación, parecería inútil presentar estos grandes problemas que urgen una solución. Pero conforta el espíritu cuando acuden a nuestra memoria nombres de personas reconocidas por su probado interés en bien de la comunidad y estamos seguros que al leer estas líneas cada uno pensará en la forma de ayudar.

Banco Internacional para la Reconstrucción y Desarrollo

El aumento de la producción de alimentos era naturalmente una de las más urgentes labores que contemplaba el gobierno hindú; pero era igualmente esencial eliminar el déficit en su cuenta con los Estados Unidos y con otros países de «moneda fuertes» mediante el mantenimiento de la producción industrial a un volumen tan alto como lo permitiera su capacidad, especialmente en las industrias que exportan al área del dólar.

Un obstáculo que aprisionaba la totalidad del sistema industrial era el de las deficientes condiciones de la red ferroviaria. Ya desde la depresión, antes de la guerra, el mantenimiento había sido inadecuado; el número de locomotoras, gastadas y casi inservibles, se mereció para proveer fuerza motriz en los campos de guerra del Medio Este y, finalmente, el sistema de ferrocarriles tuvo que soportar nuevas cargas impuestas por la considerable importación de alimentos y por la desviación del tránsito hacia puertos de la India, después de la separación de Pakistán.

De allí resultaron frecuentes daños en las máquinas, deterioración de las mercancías en tránsito y todos los inconvenientes que acarrea un sistema de prioridades. Apenas hubo un aspecto de la vida industrial en el que el movimiento normal de mercancías y materiales no fuera estorbado. Por ejemplo, las exportaciones de manganeso, importante fuente de dólares, fueron detenidas por la incapacidad de los ferrocarriles para transportarlas.

La producción de alimentos y mejora del sistema ferroviario eran dos labores materiales de primordial importancia pero, además de ellas, el gobierno hindú tenía entre sí ciertos problemas financieros del país que requerían su atención. Ya antes mencioné la inflación; sin embargo, creo que ella merece más amplio comentario, ya que influyó desfavorablemente en la producción industrial, campo en el cual las huelgas y otros síntomas de intranquilidad pueden serle parcialmente atribuidos. Además, tal fenómeno perjudicó la capacidad del gobierno para adelantarse sus programas de desarrollo, que sólo podrían haber sido adelantados por medio de préstamos o déficit, puesto que la tributación era ya bastante elevada para hacer frente a los gastos militares y atender millones de refugiados. La financiación por medio de déficit sólo habría atizado la hoguera. Los préstamos estaban limitados por un mercado de capital estrecho; estrecho no por falta de liquidez, sino porque la duda sobre la política fiscal del gobierno hacía más atrac-

El problema de la Vivienda

En la semana pasada estuvo entre nosotros el Lic. Arnoldo Jiménez Zavaleta y su distinguida señora.

El Lic. Jiménez Zavaleta forma parte de la Asamblea Legislativa de la República y es miembro de la comisión que tiene en estudio la construcción de casas baratas por medio del Banco de Seguros.

La población limonense espera las mejores proyecciones de la visita de tan culto señor, pues estamos seguros que con los informes que se han presentado y las observaciones que hizo en el propio terreno se dio cuenta que ninguna exageración está reñida con la realidad.

El problema de la vivienda toma caracteres alarmantes en esta zona.

Esperamos ansiosos el día en que se dé principio a la construcción de esas casas y podamos decir convencidos que ya se nos escucha en nuestras justas peticiones.

Ruega a los bananeros de Línea Vieja:

Que en virtud de las exigencias del mercado norteamericano en cuanto a la calidad del banano, nos es indispensable la cooperación íntegra en cuanto al buen manejo de la fruta y al grado que se pide en los avisos. Esta cooperación muy sencilla y fácil de dar, significaría para el productor posibilidades más amplias de ayuda para nuevas siembras.

Notice to the Banana Cultivators on the Old Line

In view of the fact the North American Markets are exacting on the quality of the banana, it is necessary for us to cooperate in every respect to secure the best grade of fruit when notices are sent out. This cooperation is very simple and can be easily given and will signify for the producers more ample possibilities of help for new plantings.

Honorables señores Regidores:

Este detalle de entradas y salidas, el que ya ha sido revisado por la Inspección General de Municipalidades, los ilustrará para que se empenen de cuanto se ha recaudado y cuanto se ha invertido. A mediados del año pasado al cumplir un año de tener a mi cargo la custodia de los ingresos de este Municipio, di un informe a la Corporación de aquel entonces. Es mi idea, salvo mejor criterio, que debemos poner especial atención a las inversiones, pues como lo dije en aquel entonces, se hace necesario un cabal control de todas y cada una de las inversiones municipales. Hoy nuevamente insisto en este asunto, pues por falta de control y de inversión bien dirigida, se puede mal grar la recaudación, que tanto trabajo a costado levantarla. Mi petición al Consejo de que se exija a los jefes reporte de movimiento de materiales y existencia en mano, se hace necesarísimo, nunca podrá el Municipio tener costo exacto de las diferentes obras o trabajos.

torizar a la Caja del Seguro Social para que amplie su presupuesto con el propósito de construir mayor número de casas en las zonas afectadas por las inundaciones quede firmemente asignada una cantidad mínima de 60 casas a la ciudad de Limón.

El problema de la vivienda en este Puerto tiene caracteres alarmantes. Las familias viven hacinadas en cuartos redondos, insalubres y metidos dentro de los patios.

Los señores Diputados que conocen este Puerto, saben muy bien de este problema. El señor Gobernador se ha dirigido al Ministerio informándole de la cantidad de familia que están desahuciadas y no hay donde hospedarlas.

Cada día es más la cantidad de personas que vienen a radicarse al Puerto aumentando el problema.

Por falta de viviendas, las instituciones públicas, como la Junta de Protección Social etc., oficinas y empresas particulares, se privan de traer empleados especializados.

El Seguro Social debió de haber construido ya, y según la Ley 30 casas en Limón; ahora han prometido comenzar la construcción de estas casas en este mes, y esperamos cumplan lo ofrecido; pero esta cantidad no solucionaría el problema y por eso este Concejo se solidariza en todas sus partes con la nota dirigida a los señores Diputados Calvosa y Portocarrero.

Señores Diputados, Limón pide lo que es justo y le pertenece y estamos seguros de que ustedes, si están dentro de lo posible, ayudarán a esta ciudad en problema tan grave. Con todo respeto atentamente,
R. Brenes P., Secretario Mepal.

OUR TASK

FROM OUR DESK

BY THE EDITOR

It seems to be the ambition of certain women in our day to be like men as much as possible—in dress—in games—in practice—in manner and in speech. By these manlike indulgences, we believe, they lose the distinctive glory of womanhood. When rebuked we often, hear discussions as to why they should not carry on their masculine practices. Quite true, man is not higher in the scale than woman, but from creation he was given dominion over her and she was destined to move along different planes of life.

We believe that when women try to be like men their glory departs. On our part we think it is a pity that at times the exigencies of modern life force women from their proper sphere into those more fitted for men. If we had better economic and social arrangements there would be abundant occupation for women in their prescribed sphere; although we honor and highly esteem women who are ready to step into places which do not quite belong to them; under stress of circumstance; such heroines as those of the British Common wealth of Nations in World War Second. In spite of the glory exemplified in such emergencies, yet in many cases it tends to deprive them of something of their proper charm. Quite true, women may feel that no line of demarcation should be drawn against them in the sense of freedom given under their Constitution, but thought ought to be given and more centered on that Dispensation which greater than all others and which is no advocate for women to be manlike. There are, we admit, interchangeable knowledge in life with corresponding great lessons which men can learn from women and also men keeping their proper manhood are the world's teachers; so it is concluded that the learning may be mutual.

May our women readers bear with us a little in touching this delicate subject, but the broad basis of the whole matter lies here;—In men the regnant faculty is the mind; in women the regnant faculty is the heart; therefore if men need an infusion of feeling, may not women need an infusion of reason which is an offspring of the mind.

Last Sunday on the occasion of the burial of a deceased her young grandson was weeping. We heard a woman in the procession said, 'I like to see men cry for they often say women are weak in heart. How appropriate an admission to our theme of the regnant faculty of women's heart

In the Basket of the Week

In the deep unwritten wisdom of life there are many things which are to be learned and they cannot be taught. We never know them by hearing them spoken, but we grow into them by experience and recognize them through understanding which is a great experience in itself, but it does not come by instruction.

A Decree By the Legislative Assembly The Atlantic Boycotted at Matina and Madre de Dios

We read with great interest in the Official Gazette of February 4th, the new decree which has been legislated and approved by His Excellency the President of the Republic; the extract of which we publish below.

That article second of the law which created the Emigration and Residential Cedula for Foreigners, No. 37 of June 7, 1940 has been reformed to read.

That all foreigners residing in the country for a period of more than six months must secure a Residential Cedula to be issued by the Minister of Public Security by the medium of an office established exclusively for that object. This cedula will contain principally the data of identification and to be renovated within the first thirty days of each year. The granting and renovation of each Residential Cedula will cost a fee of ten colones (¢ 10.00) to the citizens of the other

For writing the truth as we know it regarding the extraction of the hard earned colones of many citizens of colour under the guise of an African Reparation;—a thing which cannot be materialized in the way it is being expressed by certain wise cracks, strenuous efforts have been utilized to boycott the sale of the «ATLANTIC» at Matina and Madre de Dios. Ishmael Murray a man who had rejoiced exceedingly when we communicated with him on starting the «Atlantic Post»; promised his all and all to help the cause, but being a member of the all-exalted rank in the Back to Liberia Movement; he returned to us, the supply of newspaper for the issue of January 14th without even unwrapping the package sent him. On investigation the majority of his subscribers informed me that they had no knowledge that the paper had arrived at Matina, for they

PERSONALIA

Mr. Alex. Curling of the capital spent several days in our city last week. We gather that he came on special missions in interest of several less fortunate citizens. One can rest assured that he will do his best in the cause which he represents. This newspaper will be very grateful to him for any information which he can release in conjunction with his trip.

With mingled feeling we are passing along the information that our very good friend, Mr. Clarence Sankey of the Merchandise Department of the Costa Rica Banana Company is on the sick agenda. It is our fond hope that ere this writing is placed in prints he has been discharged from the hospital and be well on the way to perfect recovery.

Our very amicable and deeply regarded townsman, don Arturo Coward of the office staff of the same department; a week ago was and unlooker to a match in process on our playground. He was severely struck by a stone on his leg thrown by some indiscrecional or criminally intentioned person and one who was not identified. Mr. Coward was conveyed to the hospital where he is confined and with incruciating pains. We wish for him a speedy recovery and trust that the evil thrower of that stone will repent, if there is such a spark in his life.

Left for Convocation in Ancon, Canal Zone

The Atlantic adopts this medium to express a note of «Bon-Voyage» to the Reverend William L. Ziadie, Rector of Limón and the Reverend William Graham Love, the newly ordained Priest who left to attend the annual Convocation in Ancon, Canal Zone. Mr. Allan Hylton accompanied the Reverend Fathers as special delegate for the St. Mark's Parish.

We are of opinion that Mr. Hylton will efficiently rise to the honour conferred and interest reposed in him.

SAVINGS PLAN

The news fell on our ears like the refreshing showers on a sun parched ground that the local main office of the Costa Rica Banana Company has introduced an «Employee Christmas Saving Fund» by means of payroll deduction. If the information is true, it unquestionably merits great applause to the mind which gave its birth. This medium to practice thrift, will, without doubt set aside the throwing away of the substance and grasping at the shadow. We know of cases regarding men who have started with money to open new Savings or to add to deposits in Bank and they have fallen by the wayside to other attractions and on such occasions they have never arrived at the Bank; others have effected withdrawals from their savings for avoidable causes. We opine that if the employees remain in the services of the Company they cannot on any flimsy pretext go and say Mr. Adams, let me have a withdrawal of a given amount before the prescribed time, but when old man «Santa Claus» is packing his suitcase for his annual visit, the employee can at the same time calculate on the year's payroll deduction, cozily set aside for them.

We believe the very noble thought could be improved and converted to a system of Superannuation; a fund to serve in those years when youth has given way to old age; vigor surrendered to weakness and mental fortitude has lost its fount.

It should be borne in mind that the worker who enters the Company's service in advanced age, will, quite naturally have such set-backs cast upon him much in advance of the required number of service years to be the recipient of a pension.

Other than the reverence to the divine birth anniversary of Bethlehem's Precious Babe, pagan Christmas is old enough to be shelved! Greater is the need in the sun-setting days of the manual as well as the clerical worker, who like the silly cricket had chirped away his Spring, Summer and Autumn and was found without a cupboard in Winter.

Look at the old wage earners in the streets of this city and you will see the true picture of this our thought. Many perhaps have indulged too much in the Christmas cup which inebriates.

The old age fund, should death come when in the service of the Company the amount withdrawn would be redeemable by his nominee or legatee.

Mr. Stephen Williams Feted Surprisingly

Mr. Stephen Williams left his farm residence on the Estrella line for his usual fortnightly business visit and his worship in the city Baptist Church on Saturday eight days ago. Mrs. Williams was also at their city residence. She framed up and surprisingly feted Mr. Williams on his birth anniversary on Monday night the 6th instant. Many intimate friends were invited to brighten the celebration and enjoyed the rich drinks and eats provided. «Sixty and six» was the cheerful expression of Mr. Williams.

The Atlantic wishes for him many more happy birthdays.

Thy Will be Done on Earth as in Heaven

Thy will be done on earth as in Heaven, we presume were the words impressed in the recess of the very soul of our esteemed citizen, Mr. Charles Gourzong while his physical frame almost gave way in hearing the parting words of his young and dearly beloved wife, Mrs. Naomi Taylor de Gourzong and seeing her eyelids closed in death in the sick institution on Wednesday the 25th of January 1950. Other sad witnesses to the breath leaving scene were Mrs. Amy Taylor, her mother, Messrs. Clifford, Alfonso, Vernon, her brothers, Mrs. B. Gourzong de McRae, her sister-in-law.

The body inlaid in a beautiful coffin was transported by the passenger train arranged by her brother Victor in Cartago on the day following that of her demise. Several friends and sympathizers accompanied the mourners to this city. We are given the information that the corpse was received by a concourse of persons and was conveyed to the Baptist Church which in a few moments was taxed beyond capacity. In this sacred edifice the late Mrs. Gourzong from her earliest youth was presented to Christ and she grew continually in the acceptance and adoration of our Blessed Christ and Saviour.

We recall with unblemished memory her many eloquent literary renditions and portrayals; always in such pathetic manner in characteristic representation of her true self: a creature of child like deportment, an assuming, though she was talented; free of vainglory and other attributes which she well knew were set in the quicksands of time. She had lived respected and was honoured to her grave. Mr. Gourzong proved his Christian strength by having presided at the organ during the funeral service conducted by the Reverend Wm. Forde, the Pastor of the Church, coupled with his glowing tribute to the life work of the deceased; quite conscious of the fact that a great light was extinguished.

The concourse of mourners, friends and sympathizers, comprehending every stage of our great human family as we learn out-capacitated five passenger coaches. The floral tribute was the evidence of giving the last from the living to the dead. From the Churr to the funeral train is said to have been in representative and quantitative vein; the most impressionable seen in many decades gone by.

She has left to mourn her loss, her widower, her babies; a girl and a boy, her father Mr. John S. Taylor who is abroad, her mother, Mrs. Amy Taylor, brothers, Clifford, Alfonso, Vernon, Victor and Mrs. Carmen de Carter who she had but a few weeks prior to her hospitalization taken to Cristobal, Canal Zone and attended to the wedding of Mrs. Carter before leaving for the United States of America. Mrs. Gourzong, the mother of the lamented widower, Mr. & Mrs. Oscar McRae, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Robotham, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gourzong, Mr. Vega and Mrs. Olive Vega and the rest of relatives also deeply mourn her death. However, she is not dead; she is only at rest and will rise again to receive that crown which we believe she had earned while sojourning on this terrestrial globe.

Mr. William Smith Gone to his Eternal Rest

Numbering among the births in the parish of St. James in the island of Jamaica, Mr. William Smith had seen the light of day in the year 1873 and in the flowery days of his manhood he came to this Republic. During his forty five years of residence by his brawn and brain he became an independent citizen and was comfortably residing at 28 Miles;—a community in which he was highly respected, very useful, was always sought as a counselor and with willingness at all times to help the less fortunate members of the great human family. He had not failed to sing the Lord's song in a strange land.

The hand of affliction grasped him several months ago. He was placed under the most competent medical doctors in San José with a view of securing a new lease on his useful life, but in the divine council it was decided to the opposite; his spirit took flight on January 13, 1950, surrounded by his daughter, Mrs. Gladys Smith de Barnes, Mr. Arthur Smith, his son, Mr. Samuel Smith, his brother and other relatives; these now mourn his passing beyond the vale. We are told that the funeral procession seen on the day of his burial was self-evident of his life's deportment. He had planted deeply his foot-prints in worthy sands of time.

This weekly news organ expresses its profound condolence to the surviving children, brother and other relatives.

Thanks to Messrs Sydney Walters and Marcus Cuza

So numerous are those years since we had seen the light of day that the date of birth was covered with dust on memory's shelf. However, our good friends, Messrs. Sydney Walters and Marcus Cuza got together and gave us a charming birth anniversary programme over Radio Casiano.

This was effected on Tuesday night, January 30th. Mr. Cuza as said by all listeners gave that tribute at the highest melody of his career; his soul, they say was attuned with the renditions. Very sincerity are our thanks to these very two popular townsmen as well as to Radio Casiano.

The pages in the calendar of the years turned up another birthday anniversary for Miss Consuela Sterling, on the 3rd instant. She is one of our young prominent misses and is among the devoted young people of the Roman Catholic Diocese. It is pleasurable for our news organ to wish her many more happy birth anniversaries and hope she will continue to trim brightly her lamp of life.

Salvation Army Offices Due to Arrive in This City

The gallant Major Thos. B. Lynch of the local Salvation Army command has pleasingly informed us that Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Allbrook are due to arrive in this city on Friday the 17th instant and that a welcome programme will be given in their honour. The Major looks forward to the usual warm participation by platform guests as well as the general audience.

The Atlantic extends a hearty welcome anticipantly, to these two Christian Pilgrims, assuring them that Limon's characteristic hospitalities await them.

Another Candle is Lighted

The baby delivery angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Splatt of the Universal Bakery and left in the tender care of Mrs. Splatt a baby boy and said «Junior is getting a big fellow, gave up the riding of his own little bicycle and dashing around on his father's and «Betty» can comb and curl her hair and cut fancy doll dresses, therefore, Prince George is heartily given. Mother and the stranger are in good health. Father Splatt was seen passing around the cigars.

Central American Republics; twenty five colones (@ 25.00) to the citizens of Spain or those of the Spanish American countries and fifty colones (@ 50.00) to the citizens of other foreign countries. These fees will be shown on the document by the corresponding values in timbres. The names of persons to whom these Residential Cédulas are issued will bear the number and place of the holder and will be published yearly in the Official Gazette.

Article 3 of the same law states that reciprocal concession to the payment of these fees will be extended to the citizens of those countries which exempt Costarricans from payment of such taxation. This article further gives grace that the Minister of Public Security will exempt when duly informed the payment of these fees by those foreigners whose difficult situation justifies the exclusion.

found great value in having been kept posted on new government regulations and other important matters which are well worth the twenty five cents a week spent for the paper. The worst of Murray's treatment is his failure to remit to us as much as ten cents for his supply of fifty copies of the news organ each week from the month of October 1949. Our Madre de Dios agent, we sympathize with him for he has to do the bidding of the King of that district. Anyway, the News organ continues and their effort being bent on evil will not destroy it.

A Hearty Welcome to Mr. J. Halon

These columns are highly graced with the insertion of the name of Mr. J. D. Halon, the General Inspector of the Merchandise Department of the United Fruit Company. His very winsome personality will, without doubt earn for him endorsement among our citizens.

We have seen him very busily engaged at his desk in the office attached to the local commissary, yet he greets the incomer with a smile.

The Atlantic wishes for him a very comfortable sojourn in these parts
