A Woman's Best Friend.

"A husband is a woman's best friend!" exclaims Laura Jean Libby, the eminent authoress and expert on matters of the heart. How true it is! Though he may be neglected and forgotten for weeks, when the bill collector comes around the husband is called to the front. Whatever minor position he may occupy at other times, just after the first of the month he becomes important. He must face the grocer, meet the milliner and answer the misdeeds of the dry goods man. Whether the suffragists will admit it or not, a husband is a very handy thing to have around a home. He can fix the furnace, bring up the coal, talk back to the hired man, and some exceptionally brave and hardy ones have been known to go to the extent of taking their lives in their hands and discharging the cook. They save a lot of trouble when ladies want to go to the theater, and are extensively used as companions in going to bridge parties and returning from the same. A sad and silent figure he may be, and his name appears in the blaze of social lights only as "among those present," but when he gets away even the busiest club woman of a wife soon finds that something is missing. In a theater or in a reception he makes the finest of fur holders and strap carriers, and nothing else forms so excellent a background for brilliant costumes as a row of them standing up at the back of an opera box. Laura Jean is right. A woman has no better friend than a well-trained husband. And the women realize it. Whenever the supply of husbands runs short in any community there is sadness and sorrow. Bachelors are all right in their way, but the only genuine is the man who marries. He fights the world's battles, keeps up his children, and pays its bills. Though he seldom gets a monument until he has passed away from this vale of tears, he is a hero, too.

Science Creates Freaks.

The changes wrought in animal form by environment and climate are usually assumed to require thousands of generations of slow evolution. Prof. Albert Oepel of the University of Halle in Germany, has recently published a report on his experimental work with the fertilized cells from which animals are developed, which relates the means by which the most astounding changes can be made in animal structure, ignoring evolution and the apparently inflexible laws of heredity. From a normal frog's egg he has developed frogs with one body and two or three heads and frogs with one head with two or three bodies. Coworkers have grown dogs which had two forelegs, but had their hindlegs developed like those of a kangaroo and traveled in the same fashion. When the primal cell begins to develop, a fissure appears upon it and it divides into a dark and a light section. If it is cut in half at this point it will rejoin by a peculiar attraction. There is a light side and a dark. By repeated experiment it was found that the light developed into the head, so by operating upon three light valves with one dark it was found that the system of attraction worked in the same manner and that the three head cells united with the body cell and grew into a three-headed creature. One normal cell split in half and the halves separated would develop into two perfect frogs, and by grafting two fertilized cells together a single frog more than twice the normal size was produced. In this way one frog was grown that measured two feet in height.

No Secret Treaty.

Paris.—Baron Kurino, the Japanese Ambassador to France said in an interview that the report that a secret treaty existed between Japan and Mexico is absolutely false.

Protest.

AGAINST THE UNITED FRUIT COMPANY.

Because the Atenas stopped at Port Limon, Costa Rica, on the way from Colon, to take on Congressman and Mrs. W. E. Humphrey, and because of alleged bad treatment in other respects, twenty-seven passengers of the Atenas at the St. Charles Hotel adopted peppy resolutions. The resolutions closed with deprecation of their treatment, and "The payment by the United Fruit Company of their political obligations at our expense."

The resolutions follow:
"Whereas, the Atenas, after leaving Colon for New Orleans, proceeded to Port Limon to embark two passengers, Hon. W. E. Humphrey, M.C., and wife, and
"Whereas, these passengers could have been transported to New Orleans, arriving only two days later per the United Fruit Company's steamship Cartago, duly scheduled to call at Port Limon, and
"Whereas, as a result of this diversion from schedule all Atenas' passengers were taken to a yellow fever port and waked up for quarantine examination, though they were not allowed to land and though the ship did not leave port till 9 a.m., and
"Whereas this diversion resulted in a delay of approximately ten hours to the great discomfort of all passengers and the complete disarrangement of important business, family, social or travelling arrangements on the part of many, and
"Whereas how well the United States government manages affairs, and if our private corporations continue to disregard public convenience we may decide to try government ownership of transportation.

"Now, therefore, we, the undersigned passengers on the Atenas, having bought our tickets on the understanding that the steamer was to go directly to New Orleans, do hereby protest against such treatment and the payment by the United Fruit Company of their political obligations at our expense.

Pope Pius X to Quit the Vatican?

REPORT SAYS HE DESIRES TO FIX HIS SEAT AT LOURDES.

Sensational Article Printed by The "Gil Blas."

London.—A few weeks ago (writes the Paris correspondent of the "Daily Graphic") I gave the chief points of a sensational article which appeared in "Gil Blas," stating on the authority of M. Giacomo Consalvi, who belongs to the Cardinalate family of the Consalvi, that before long the Pope would quit the Vatican, and had expressed a desire to fix his seat at Lourdes. The reasons for proceeding were the menace of the power of the Freemasons at Rome, the revolutionary agitation in Italy, the uncertain situation in which the law of guarantees had placed the Papacy, and, lastly, and most significant, the growing feeling among progressive Catholics that the time has come for the best of the Church, to leave the prison-like seclusion of the Vatican, take his rightful place in the outer world, and mix with the life of his time. Only thus, many are persuaded, will the Roman Church make good again.

ITS MANY ENEMIES.

It seems that the publication of the article in "Gil Blas" caused quite a flutter at Rome. The writer was reproached for having too long a tongue. M. Consalvi now writes another article to the same newspaper in which he defends himself for speaking on the ground that it was for the good of the Church. His present reason for writing is that the question of the Pope's leaving Rome has, he says, his new entered into a new phase. M. Consalvi states that the German Emperor is taking a deep and personal interest in the possibility of the abandonment of the Vatican by the Sovereign Pontiff. The Kaiser is said to have let it be known that if the Pope were under the necessity of or had formed the resolution to leave Rome, then the spot in all Europe where he would be assured of the greatest security and consideration would be Alsace-Lorraine. The Emperor is stated to have declared himself very favorable to the installation of the Papp See at Strasbourg, and hinted that he would not be averse to helping on the desire, so frequently expressed by the leaders at Rome, to reconstitute a secular domain, with limited powers, where the Church would be able to carry on its moral propaganda.

Whether this be all a journalistic canard time will tell, but it is at least interesting to record, as indicating some possible undercurrents is European politics.

Robes for Coronation.

WEAVING OF CLOTH OF GOLD COMMENCED AT SILK WORKS.

Fabric of Greater Value Than Its Weight in Gold Coins.

London.—The weaving of the cloth of gold for their Coronation robes has begun at Mossy, Warwick Silk Works, Britain. By order of the Queen, who is especially interested in the British silk industry, the materials will be entirely of English make.

The cloth consists of silk material into which are woven threads of pure gold. When finished the cloth will be taken to the London School of Art Needlework and made into robes. The fabric is stated to be of more value than its weight in gold coins.

Several new features for the Coronation programme have just been announced. Previous to the departure of the foreign guests, the King and Queen intend to give a great Garden Party in the grounds of Buckingham Palace, a function to be run on the lines of the late King's Garden Party at Windsor.

Current News.

The "Prinz Joachim" of the Hamburg-American line of steamers is expected to arrive here today from Jamaica.

The following were the guests at Mr. and Mrs. Schwarz's hotel yesterday: Mr. and Mrs. Eubank, Mrs. Kisek and Miss Eubank. At hotel Maram, late Londres: George Jacobs.

Elder N. G. Goodrich, Superintendent of the Adventist denomination in Central America left here for Bocas del Toro on Wednesday night, where he intends spending some time.

The s.s. Haredia, one of the steamers of the United Fruit Company left here on Wednesday night for Colon with the following passengers: Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, Aaron Cahu, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Holnerich, R. H. Alston, Mrs. S. W. Parkie, H. C. Goodrich, J. R. Aymerich, G. F. Alonso, B. N. Yamini and 7 deckers.

We learn that a large commercial house in Limon has offered the decent sum of 35 per cent. to its creditors, this we presume is a movement that will work well for the proprietor and loss to the creditor. In these days when competition is so keen, and where there are so many places of business one has to devise means to cope with his fellow rivals. We doubt not ere long to hear of even better judgements than this.

Charles Cooper, a bar tender at Sr. Bazon's liquor tavern was assaulted last night by two respectable looking Spaniards. It appeared that the two men entered the place to have a drink and instead of remaining in front of the counter and call for what they wanted, attempted to go behind. Charles confronted them and enquired their mission promptly and instead of a courteous reply he was the recipient of a blow in his face from one of the men. The bar tender made a vicious rush at the men and although odds were against him he would have laid them low but for the interference of some bystanders they escaped what they rightly deserved.

We understand that the Municipalidad has issued an order which has been put in operation, compelling the owners of ice cream carts, and others of the kind to take out a license so as to enable them to use the public thoroughfare.

Beginning from this quarter the peddlers are called upon to pay the sum of 215 to obtain a license; the former price being 210 per quarter, payable in advance. Much dissatisfaction is expressed by those requiring same.

The s.s. "Haredia," consigned to the United Fruit Company is expected here today from Colon with mails and passengers. The "Limon," of the same line is also to arrive today from Boston, bringing cargo, passengers and mails.
