A Foolish Embargo.

Mr. Editor :

Sir,—I hereby beg to bring before the public that on Wednesday 26th a special train arrived at Herediana, bringing Juez of Limon, Don Lucas Alvarado, Mr. Mullins Superintendent for Mr. Lindo and Mr. Woodsome Superintendent of Mr. Keith's farms to make an embargo on El Cacao farm property of the U. F. Coy., of which I James Patterson am Lessee holding a contract for 8 years of which only one and a half year have expired. This embargo was made I am told because I did not prevent the men who own farms below my lands from passing through my cultivation to bring their fruits to the Railway lines, I have come to Limon to consult my lawyer, but before proceeding further I made certain propositions to the company calling for a compromise in my favour. My terms are that the company buys out my cultivation for the sum of 25,000 colones cash to which Mr. Chittenden agreed to meet me on Tuesday 2nd. I would like Mr. Mullins to remember that this farm was cultivated from my own pocket and when I made an application to him by a letter for a loan to enable me to cultivate the balance of the woodlands on this farm, he promptly refused my application, hence he must consider well before he takes such liberties with my farm.

It might be well for Mr. Mullins to look about permitting us the small farmers to make platforms along the Railway lines, where they can locate their bananas, rather than putting us to the trouble of holding up the bananas in our bed lines and night shirts since he has given an order to all the foremen along the track not to allow any platforms to be made to receive bananas. This is to inform the public of the atrocities being committed by the company with impunity, but unless they come to a reasonable term with me on Tuesday, I will naturally have to take my recourse to law to decide this thing. It may be well that the public knows also that when the farm was embargoed, I was cutting fruit for the United Fruit Coy. and the fruit received by them but the check retained by Mr. Woodsome who was named Depositario by the Judge. Mr. Chittenden has however agreed to return same to me as well as to pay me for every stem of fruit I may lose by missing the cutting of today 30th inst. He advised me to keep my shirt on for he will pay me for everything I may lose through this wrongful embargo. It is a great fortune that the company has such a genial Superintendent as Mr. Chittenden, as I am assured that had it been for that gentleman alone this trouble would not have occurred, and had the company a few more intelligent officials like him, we the small farmers would be far better provided for and that company looked upon as our best friend rather than an adversary as is the case today.

I am etc.,

THE TIMES

—Port Limon, Costa Rica.—
SECOND CARGO.

On Sunday all Limon was in expectancy as to what may occur with the fruit embargoed on Saturday evening until at eleven o'clock when it was given out that the Atlantic would load the fruit much against the wishes of the officers of the other company. On the dock could be noticed anxious faces, amongst them the leading checkers and clerks of the United Fruit Coy., looking on as tho' they regretted in their innersouls that this lot should get away from them. There seemed to be a peculiarity about the movements and gesticulations of all parties concerned, when an close examination one could see that certain bunches of fruit were marked and everytime one of these would come up they were pointed out and there seemed to be a gleam of pleasure in the faces of the checkers who were standing by the gang way but when suddenly they saw more coming than they apparently marked in the same manner, one could observe that a dispondency came over them, and their hands involuntarily dropped to their sides, when on scrutiny it was seen that General Robertson had tumbled to the game and had marked in a similar way a considerable amount of bananas so as to put confusion in the camp. The ship loaded, the Captain let loose from the dock, but the train came in bringing passengers and he had to come back; he took his passengers and left again when down came the Judge and lawyers of the U. F. Coy. demanding that the ship come to a halt, and return and unload the bananas, because the U. F. Coy. had asked to change the Depositario, but the Captain replied; "you are late, nothing doing, come to New York for these."

Very serious incidents have arisen through this embargo, there are small farmers whose fruit have been embargoed without being delivered to the Atlantic Fruit Coy. which causes lots of annoyances. We will however advice our people that in spite of all the aggravating circumstances to which they may be subjected, to keep from any act of conspiracy or violence, as in that case the cause would be prejudiced. Of the amount of fruit taken by the U. F. Coy. for the Atlantic only 1264 were returned at the order to deliver up the amount embargoed, hence the Northern Railway will account to the Government for the balance.

Limon L. & F. A.

We are asked to announce that on Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. there will be a general meeting of the Limon Literary and Friendly Association when officers for the insuing term will be elected. All the members are therefore asked to attend.

No Quorum.

On Saturday there could not be found a quorum to go ahead with the business of Congress. It is strange that the absent Deputies were those right in the Capital, meanwhile those from the Provinces were in full force.

Big Banana Law Suit

Mr. Farquharson's Story

(From the Daily "Gleaner")

In connection with the suit of the Atlantic Fruit and Steamship Coy. against Messrs Lindo Bros. we publish today the text of affidavit of Mr. A. W. Farquharson, formerly Crown Solicitor of Jamaica, but now Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Atlantic Fruit and Steamship Coy.

The affidavit follows:—

I, Arthur Wildman Farquharson, formerly of Jamaica, but now residing at 150 West 57th Street, New York, U. S. A. make oath as follows:—

I am Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Atlantic Fruit and Steamship Coy. With Mr. Di Giorgio, the President of the Company, I met Mr. Cecil Vernon Lindo at the Knickerbocker Hotel in the rooms of Mr. Charles Pringle on October 26, 1911. Mr. Lindo had come to New York from Costa Rica by arrangement made with Mr. Pringle, in order to discuss the question of an arrangement for the sale of his properties.

At the inception of the interview, Mr. Di Giorgio stated that before proceeding he wished to know distinctly from Mr. Lindo, whether he was absolutely free to deal with the Atlantic Fruit and Steamship Coy., because he considered it of the utmost importance that any negotiations he might have with Mr. Lindo should not be used as a basis for negotiations with the U. F. Coy.; and that he would not deal with Mr. Lindo unless he had his assurance that there were no dealings of any kind on foot with the U. F. Coy. in connection with the same matter. Mr. Lindo in reply stated that he had been dealing with the U. F. Coy. for about fifteen years and had felt that he owed to them to let them know before he came to New York that he contemplated dealing with the Atlantic Fruit and Steamship Company, so as to give them an opportunity of dealing with him if they wished to do so; that he had therefore communicated with their Manager in Costa Rica some time previous and had also discussed the matter with their agents in Jamaica. The company therefore had ample opportunity for communicating with him if they so desired. Not having heard from them he did not propose to open discussion with them, but to deal with the Atlantic Fruit and Steamship Coy. and Mr. Di Giorgio might understand clearly that he would under no circumstances deal with the United Fruit Coy. If he could make no agreements with the Atlantic he would be prepared to start a company of his own, as he controlled a very large output of bananas. He explained the situation in Costa Rica generally and the importance of introducing another company.

Camp One

On Sunday night last the revivalism of Sherriers Church at Camp One reached its climax. This is claimed to be a branch of Bedwardism but goes a bit higher in its degrees on theology. In that Sherrier claims to be conversant with the spiritual language of the unknown, and imparts the knowledge of this art to his more advanced followers, but on Sunday he came with new orders from his Lord; he got infuriated and tore down his pulpit and altar saying that he had received special orders from the Lord to destroy the temple and it shall be rebuilt in three days. The residents around are therefore watching to see whether his Lord will rebuild the temple or whether he will have to do it himself. Where these fanatics are going to end with the divisions of their denominations God knows.

The Commission.

Rumour has it distributed around town that the Commission which has been appointed to investigate into the turmoils of the banana question would arrive this p.m., but on investigation we learn that they will not be down until Friday when they can see exactly what goes on at a banana pick up.
